

Community Meetings Notice

CITY OF BOSTON

THOMAS M. MENINO, MAYOR

URBAN AGRICULTURE

As part of an ongoing effort to increase access to affordable, fresh food in Boston, the City of Boston Department of Neighborhood Development has solicited proposals from qualified farmers to cultivate on two City properties in Dorchester. Join us as these farmers present their proposals.

What: 131 Glenway St.

What: 23-29 Tucker St.

When: Thu, Sept 29, 6:00 p.m.

When: Tue, Oct 4, 6:45 p.m.

Where: Erie Ellington Community Center
31 Erie St., Dorchester, MA

Where: Great Hall, 6 Norfolk St.
Dorchester, MA

This pilot project will also involve establishing a new Urban Agriculture Zoning Overlay District to allow the cultivation of fruits and vegetables and composting of plant materials grown on site. For more information about the proposed zoning overlay, go to: <http://miniurl.com/BRARezezoneUrbanAgriculture/>. For more information on the urban agriculture project, go to: www.bostonfood.org/resources/grow-food/

For further information about this upcoming meeting, please contact: Jay Lee, Assistant Director of Design, Department of Neighborhood Development, jlee.DND@cityofboston.gov.