About Daily Table:

Daily Table's mission is to provide affordable nutrition to those most in need, helping to eliminate hunger and obesity in the US. Through an innovative not-for-profit retail grocery model, Daily Table addresses these challenges with a solution that is both financially sustainable and scalable. Led by Doug Rauch, former President of Trader Joe's, Daily Table will open its first store in April 2015 in the Dorchester neighborhood of Boston. With the recovery of excess, surplus food from supermarkets, growers and distributors, customers will be offered a combination of fresh groceries, ready-to-cook meals, and grab'n'go meals prepared in an onsite kitchen and available at affordable prices. Beyond Dorchester, Daily Table will expand first to at least one other location in Boston and then to other cities in the US.

Position Summary:

Dorchester residents are strongly encouraged to apply.

Daily Table is looking for someone to join our team as the truck driver and aggregator. The aggregator position is essential to our project to ensure timely, regimented and impromptu pickups of donated foods from new and established pickup sites in the Greater Boston area. This person will help to build and maintain solid and professional relationships with our vendors while demonstrating professionalism and a great deal of punctuality. In addition, this person will have an interest in Daily Tables mission to decrease hunger, poor nutrition, and obesity in the inner city while educating and providing access to affordable, high-quality fresh food.

Qualified candidates will have experience driving a box truck up to 26 ft making pickups and deliveries and a great sense of direction and experience navigating in and around the Greater Boston area. The ideal candidate will share the vision of the organization and have a passion for creating a positive, scalable, and sustainable impact in low to moderate income urban neighborhoods. Daily Table has a very collaborative work environment: we wouldn't be able to do what we do without the extraordinary commitment and flexibility of our staff. We are looking for someone who can (within reason) cover for staff in various departments. Beyond just a "driving" job, Daily Tables' driver represents our organization when traveling to our donors and pick up sites. The Driver must have good interpersonal skills and an ability to juggle and prioritize tasks on the go.

Duties and Responsibilities:

The pickup and delivery of donated, perishable products is essential to executing our mission to provide healthy foods to the communities we serve. Below are the essential duties for the truck driver position:

- obeys traffic laws, and follow established traffic and transportation procedures.
- inspects and maintains vehicle supplies and equipment, such as gas, oil, water, tires, lights, and brakes, to ensure that vehicles are in proper working condition.
- reports any mechanical problems encountered with vehicles.

loads and unloads trucks, vans, or automobiles and helps store them in appropriate areas of the kitchen and storage areas.

maintains good records such as vehicle logs, records collected foods, and loss of product assures recovered foods meets in-house guidelines reports delays, accidents, or other traffic and transportation situations to management.

Qualifications:

Have a good driving record and vision

At least 3 years of light truck and/or delivery van experience

Experience with a pallet jack, dollies and other light relocation equipment

Great communication skills

Experience navigating in and around the Greater Boston area

Willing to help out in other areas within the organization when all deliveries and pickups are completed

A strong belief in the potential of Daily Table and understanding the need for an affordable, healthy food option in the urban market
